Poverty has reached epidemic proportions, and the current U.S. system for addressing it is disjointed, unscientific, and unsustainable. By approaching poverty as a "condition" that can be best treated by proper assessment, standards of care, and quality-control measures, Marcella Wilson, PhD, is overturning decades of well intentioned but ineffective remedies.

10:15am Break and Abstract, Poster & Exhibit Viewing
Please take some time to meet with our presenters and learn about cancer control projects in Michigan!

11:00am Concurrent Sessions

A. Health Equity and Disparities in Breast Cancer Genetics

- Lisa Newman, MD, MPH, FACS
- Angela Trepanier, MS, CGC

African-American women develop and die from breast cancer at higher rates than white women. The reasons are multifactorial, but genetics play a significant part. This session will explore the prevalence and genetics of Triple-Negative breast cancer. Barriers to genetic counseling and testing of minorities will be discussed, as well as current state-level public health efforts underway to increase referrals and testing.

B. A Frank Discussion: Survivorship Ignored Topics

- Molly B. Moravek, MD, MPH; Director Fertility Preservation Program, Michigan Medicine, University of Michigan
- Lisa Astalos Chism, DNP, APRM, NCMP, FAANP; Clinical Director, Women's Wellness Clinic at Karmanos Cancer Institute
- Annette Carron, DO, FACO; Geriatrician & Palliative Care Medicine at Henry Ford Health System

This session will be a frank discussion about cancer survivorship across the lifespan. The panel will discuss topics that are important for providers when working with survivors. Topics addressed will include fertility, sexuality and aging.

C. Grant Writing 101

- Linda Chamberlain, PhD; Director, Technology Commercialization Center at Grand Valley State University
Feeling overwhelmed by grant writing? This session is geared toward MCC organizations that need extra support to submit a successful grant application. Dr. Chamberlain will cover the 'nuts and bolts' of writing a grant and provide participants with the basic knowledge and understanding of completing the components of a grant application, including writing a cover letter, ex-
