

Responsibilities

Michigan Cancer Consortium (MCC) member organizations are required to designate individuals to serve as representatives for their organization. An alternate representative may also be designated for an organization in the event the member representative is unable to fulfill his/her responsibilities.¹

MCC member representatives are responsible for:

- Voting on behalf of their organization (e.g., Board slate, Bylaws)
- Submitting the Implementation Progress Report for their organization
- Sharing MCC information with others in their organization
- Attending MCC events (e.g., Board Meetings, Annual Membership Meeting)

Benefits

As a MCC member representative, there are many benefits associated with this position, including:

- Networking opportunities with a number of different organizations committed to controlling cancer
- Exploring available resources and potential funding sources for cancer-related activities
- Helping to reduce cancer-related risks and costs, both within your organization and across the state
- Gaining well-deserved recognition for your cancer control efforts
- Receiving timely email notices from the MCC leadership and staff, alerting you to important MCC news and information about upcoming cancer-related events and activities
