

Who We Are

We're a dedicated group of public, private, and voluntary organizations committed to reducing the human and economic impact of cancer in Michigan.

What We Believe

The philosophy behind the MCC Initiative:

- We believe that a focused, coordinated initiative will produce synergy and an impact far greater than the sum of its parts.
- We believe that the burden of cancer will be reduced substantially by partners working together toward common goals.
- We believe that when organizations work together, they can maximize the potential of limited health care resources and minimize duplication of efforts.
- We believe that all residents are entitled to quality cancer prevention, screening, diagnosis, treatment, and end-of-life information, as well as culturally acceptable services.

What We're Doing

Various organizations interested in cancer control have joined the MCC and agreed to focus their efforts on the MCC Initiative, a unique project in which public, private and voluntary organizations across the state are working together to achieve specific cancer control priorities.

MCC member and key partner organizations are:

- Looking for new ways to make a difference and significantly reduce the cancer burden in our state.
- Taking steps to improve the quality of cancer care that Michigan residents receive.
- Focusing on their current cancer control activities and exploring ways to enhance these efforts.
- Learning what other organizations are doing and looking for new ways to work together to address the MCC goals.
